Privacy Policy

Milgram, Inc. ("Company," "we," "us," or "our")

Effective Date: October 29, 2026

Last Updated: October 29, 2026

1. Introduction. This Privacy Policy describes how we collect, use, and share personal information when you visit or use the website at milgram.dev or the use services available through the Milgram Model API (collectively, the “Site”). By using the Site, you agree to the practices described in this Policy. If you do not agree, please do not use the Site.

2. Personal Information We Collect. We collect the following categories of personally identifiable information from visitors to the Site: 1) Contact information you provide, such as your name and email address; and 2) Communications, including information you include when you contact us or submit a form. Other personal information may be processed by the Milgram Model API when our customers integrate the Milgram Model API with their own product or service.

3. How We Collect Information. We collect information directly from you when you submit forms or contact us. We also receive information programmatically through the application programming interface.

4. How We Use Information. We use the information we collect to: 1) operate, maintain, and improve the Site (including by using collected information to train our AI models); 2) respond to your inquiries and provide requested services or products; 3) process transactions and send related communications; 4) send administrative messages; 4) and comply with legal obligations and enforce our terms.

5. Sharing of Information. We share information you submit via website forms with service providers that perform services on our behalf (for example, processing data that is submitted on website forms). In connection with a merger, acquisition, financing, reorganization, bankruptcy, or sale of assets, personal information may be disclosed to or transferred to the counterparty and its advisers, subject to this Policy or notice of a material change. Otherwise, we do not share personal information with third parties. Please note that a customer of the Milgram Model API may collect personal information and send it to our service.

6. Cookies and Third-Party Tracking. We use cookies to operate the Site. You can set your browser to refuse cookies or alert you when cookies are sent, though some features of the Site may not function properly as a result.

7. How We Respond to “Do Not Track” Signals. Some browsers transmit “Do Not Track” (“DNT”) signals. We do not respond to this signal because regardless of how your browser is configured, we do not sell or share your personal information.

8. Reviewing and Updating Your Information. You may request changes to the personal information we have about you by submitting your request on the form located at milgram.dev/contact. We may need to verify your identity before making changes.

9. Data Security. We use reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to protect personal information. No method of transmission or storage is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

10. Children's Privacy. The Site is intended for business use. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under 16. If you believe a child has provided us personal information, contact us at the address in Section 13 and we will take appropriate steps to delete it.

11. Third-Party Links. The Site may contain links to third-party websites. We are not responsible for the privacy practices of those sites, and we encourage you to review their policies.

12. Changes to This Policy. We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. When we do, we will revise the "Last Updated" date above and post the updated Policy on the Site. Your continued use of the Site after changes are posted constitutes acceptance of the revised Policy. We may mutually agree to modify the terms of this Privacy Policy by executing a written agreement that expressly modifies this Privacy Policy.

13. Contact Us. If you have questions about this Privacy Policy, contact us at:
